

PRESENTER: Oh, hi. Don't mind me. I'm just trying to cause a tornado in Brazil, although it could happen in Texas. We can't really tell for sure. The reason why is a story that began with a cup of coffee at MIT, continued with doodles, in the end with curing cancer. It is a mathematical journey through nature, filled with chaos and more funky doodles.