

21W.022.03/Walsh Spring 2014

NAME _____

Write for about FIVE minutes in response to the question below. Use “bullet points” to express as many ideas as possible.

List the variations of English (or other languages) that you regularly speak and write in.
 (“variation” can be interpreted broadly)

By the end of today, how many different variations of English (or other languages) will you probably use in speech and writing?

Who are the audiences for these variations in the language(s)? How are these different “Englishes” (or other languages) effective in different settings?
