

Resources for checking facts and controversies

- 1) Fact Check.org - A project of the Annenberg Public Policy Center
<http://www.factcheck.org/>

Mostly for what's in the news, especially politics

- 2) Snopes.com
<http://snopes.com/>

Their mission is to check out “rumors” of all kinds, including folklore, urban legends and misinformation.

Resource for learning more about issues

- 1) Frontline
<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/frontline/>

This 30-year-old PBS documentary series covers a variety of topics, from science & technology to current events. The site has its own search engine of documentaries by topic.

- 2) ProPublica
<http://www.propublica.org/about/>

An independent, non-profit organization that investigates issues with “moral force.” It won the 2011 Pulitzer Prize for National Reporting.

- 3) The Food & Environmental Reporting Network
<http://thefern.org/>

An independent, non-profit news organization that produces investigative journalism on the subjects of food, agriculture and environmental health.

MIT OpenCourseWare
<http://ocw.mit.edu>

21W.035 Science Writing and New Media: Elements of Science Writing for the Public
Spring 2013

For information about citing these materials or our Terms of Use, visit: <http://ocw.mit.edu/terms>.