Klaus Clados: A New Republic

transcribed by: Chris McRiley (staff)

"I am deeply sorry for being so unresponsive and for seemingly ignoring all of your questions and concerns, but I was busy preparing for today. I wanted to make sure everything went perfectly.

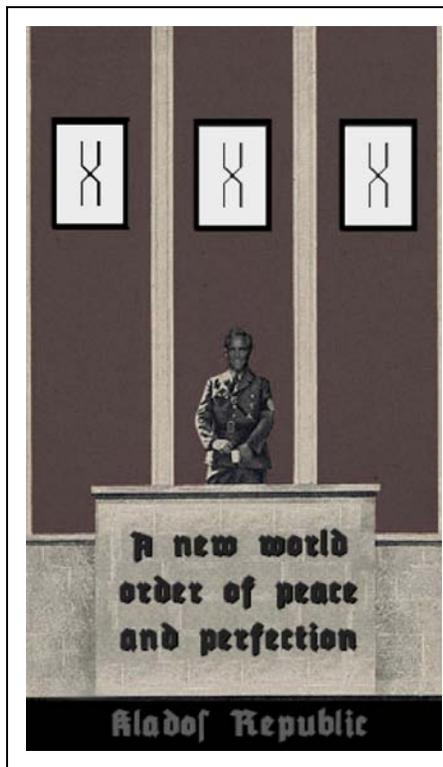

You may have noticed a few changes overnight. I have taken the precaution of stationing clone guards on every street to facilitate peace and orderliness. Do not worry, no action will be taken, and you can go about your normal lives with only a minimal amount of restrictions. As long as no resistance or violence is sensed.

I know my actions may seem a bit extreme and sudden, but I only wish to share my vision with everyone in Central New York. I envision a world without disease and disabilities. And I know that this can be achieved through cloning. These clones are identical to you in many ways, but physically superior. They have the same thoughts and personalities, and have even experienced the exact same events as you. However, they are without all of your physical defects. Our cloning process preserves your identity in your clone, and our monitored growth process optimizes your health. Your clone has reached your full physical perfection while still being you - he is the ultimate version of you.

I know many of you have been following the Hidden Zebra theory that emerged a few weeks ago. I would like to confirm everything that journalist Hidden Zebra has written - the essence of the soul can not be artificially created so we must take it from another being.

The Clados Republic welcomes you. Join us in establishing a new world order of peace and perfection.

Let me remind you that what we are trying to do is to achieve perfection. A lofty goal like this calls for drastic measures. Furthermore, we are doing the world a favor by eliminating those without a future to create futures for people with potential, a necessary sacrifice. The monthly injections that are currently necessary to sustain this process will soon be eliminated, meaning that the transformation will become permanent.

My son is the ultimate example and ideal subject. He was sick and dying, and could not be saved. He had an incurable physical defect that he was born with. But through this exact same cloning process, I was able to both preserve his identity and ensure that this physical defect never presented itself again. Now, Arvo lives happily and healthily beside me, committed to our mission of creating a better world.

I ask that you look to the clone guards as mentors and leaders in this new republic. They are no different from you, except that they have been enlightened with the truth. If they can see the light, then so can you.

I also encourage you to think not only of your future, but also of this world's future. Future generations will look back on this day as their saving day. They will thank us for our sacrifice and our vision.

The Clados Republic welcomes you. Join us in establishing a new world order of peace and perfection."
