

First Expansion

Due: Session 11

In this assignment, you will take a narrative you have previously created and expand it into another medium. For example, if you have written a short story, you can create a short video, a graphic story, or even a blog for one of the characters. Likewise, if you have created a game, you can take an element from the game and turn it into a story, video, graphic story, etc.

Remember when you expand to another platform, you are not simply recreating the narrative, but using the strengths and specific characteristics of the new medium to further explore and add depth and audience experience to the narrative.
